The K. S. A. C. Catalogue

As the big College gets bigger, the catalogue gets bigger. This office has just received a copy of the Kansas Agricultural College catalogue, a really big book of 367 pages. It announces a division of work into a secondary school, or School of Agriculture and a College of Agriculture and Engineering. The School of Agriculture, includes three-year courses in Agriculture, Mechanic Arts, and Home Economics. Students are admitted into these courses on certificate of the common school or grammar school work.
The standard for the College proper has been raised and now students are not admitted regularly into the College courses until they completed the equivalent to a strong high school course. Altogether the College offers only vocational courses—Agriculture, Mechanic Arts or Engineering, Home Economics, and Veterinary Medicine, and offers opportunities both for the young people just from the common school and for the graduates of high schools and normal schools.
This catalogue will be sent free on request to President H. J. Waters, Manhattan, Kansas, Box 6.

Official Log Book of Golden Belt Road

The official log book of the Golden Belt Road has been issued and a copy received at this office. The book carries out the color of the road's signs and is golden from cover to cover. Sixty pages with maps give a complete log of the road from Kansas City to the Colorado line, 490.5 miles, in both directions with every turn and directions of many points of interest. Advertisements tell of the hotel and garages en route and several of the towns have attractive advertisements. The association is working to have every mile of the road made a perfect highway; nearly every county has designated it as a county road. This route is becoming known the country over as one of the finest motor roads and the best marked for its length in America. The book will be distributed free by commercial clubs to their members; garages and hotels will also distribute them. A copy will be sent postpaid for 25 cents by the president, G. M. Harger, Abilene, the proceeds going to the road association funds.
We have about 500 head of cattle, 200 head are cows and the balance are steers of various ages from yearlings to three year olds. Have some nice Jersey cows. Will sell them on time to good parties. E. F. Madden, Hays, Kans.—adv. 22.

Y. W. C. A.

The Young Women's Christian Association reaches the girl as soon as she arrives in Lawrence. Girls wearing Y. W. Badges meet each incoming train, and help every girl who has no friends or relatives in Lawrence to find a suitable room, which has been approved by the Faculty Committee on Rooms and Boarding Houses. Then they help her to enroll, get her course of study planned, and give her any assistance necessary.

From time to time the Y. W. girls call on her and help her to forget her loneliness. They take her to church on Sunday; they see that she is enrolled in at least one Bible study or Mission class during the year.

The Y. W. girls see that she gets out socially, and meets people. The Freshman Frolic is the first event, which is always the Saturday evening of the first school week. It is a beautiful sight to see each Freshman girl arm in arm with an upper class girl parading with Japanese lanterns over the campus. Then there is a reception given jointly by the Young Men's Christian Association and the Young Women's Christian Association. During the year there are smaller parties where the girls have a chance to make many acquaintances. In the spring is a membership banquet to which all of the members come.

Every Wednesday afternoon at four forty-five the girls meet for devotional exercises; to either listen to some great speaker or for a quiet and friendly hour among themselves. It is here that the daily routine is forgotten, and each girl determines to accomplish greater things and to always be a little more thoughtful and a little kinder than before. Inspiration? Yes—that is really what they get at College—from their books—and from their associates.

So the Young Women's Christian Association, standing as it does for the very highest ideal, is the greatest help to the girl from the moment she enters Lawrence, not only to find a lodging place; to help her enroll; to take her to church; to make friendships which last for a lifetime, but finally to keep in touch with the inspiration, so that it cannot be lost to her through the rush and whirl of college life.

OBITUARY.

Robert Emmet Morse, oldest son of George and Katie Morse, was born in Ft. Atkinson, Iowa, January 24, 1870, and died in Wa-Keeney, Kansas, July 30, 1913, aged 43 years, 6 months and 6 days. He came to Culver, Kansas, in 1873. There he married Ollie Anderson, December 19, 1895. He entered the service of the U. P. Railway, September, 1893, and died in their employ, being on a leave of absence at the time of his death. If he had lived until next September he would have completed 20 years of continuous service.

He leaves a wife, father and mother, two brothers and eight sisters. He was the first to go of a family of eleven children. x x

CATCH GRASSHOPPERS FOR SYRIANS TO EAT.

Hutchinson, Kan., July 31.—Arthur Hromeg and his younger brothers, of southwestern Rush county, will earn enough selling dried grasshoppers to buy them a motorcycle.

For two weeks the Hromeg brothers have been gathering up grasshoppers, using a light wagon rigged up with big canvas wings which scoops up the hoppers by the bushel. After they are dead they soon dry up.

The Hromeg brothers learned, through a relative in the east, that Syrians and Armenians of the colonies in eastern cities relish the dried grasshoppers, which are ground up, made into a sort of meal and esteemed as a high delicacy, possibly having some resemblance to the locusts that John the Baptist and others of Bible days had on the bill of fare.

A Syrian firm in Philadelphia is buying all of the dried grasshoppers they can get, and the Hromeg boys are sending them shipments as fast as they can gather, dry and pack them. They are light, are shipped by parcel post, and easily handled.—Capital.

GORED TO DEATH BY BULL.

Goodland, Kans., August 1.—While driving cattle from the pasture to his father's home, Lester Middleton, a boy thirteen years of age, was killed by a mad bull who rushed on him and crushed him. He was by himself and failing to return home as quickly as he should, a younger brother was sent to look after him, and he found his brother dead in the pasture. The animal had been sold to a shipper and was to have been taken away the following day.—Topeka Journal.

Died at the Hospital.

Last Sunday some of the men who work in the cement factory at Yocemento went out into the country and celebrated the day by having a keg of beer which they had shipped in and bought. After the party was over they were in a wagon ready to go back to town when an argument came up during which Carl Knouse was kicked out of the wagon. He fell between the wheel and the wagon box and the team cramped the wagon catching him and literally mashed him. A doctor was called but did not think the boy was injured to any great extent and said he would be all right in a short time. About midnight Dr. Blake was called and when he arrived at Yocemento he found the patient in a very serious condition and recommended that if possible that he be taken to the hospital at Hays Monday morning. This was done and an examination was made. It was found that he had received several broken bones and he was in such a condition that it was impossible to do anything in the way of reducing the fractures. He lingered along until Tuesday afternoon when he died.

At the coroner's inquest Tuesday night a post mortem examination was made and it was found that the back bone was broken, the right hip thrown out of place and several ribs were broken, besides the other internal injuries. The coroner's jury after viewing the body adjourned until 10 o'clock Wednesday morning when the testimony was heard.

A warrant was sworn out Tuesday day for the arrest of Scott Grippen and Sheriff Miller went to Yocemento and served the warrant and placed Grippen in jail as being the cause of the young man's death. On the testimony at the coroner's inquest it was decided to hold Grippen for trial.

Knouse was only 17 years old and was without relatives in this part of the country, but he was reported to have been a straightforward young man and was well liked by the people of the little town of Yocemento. The funeral was held in Yocemento Wednesday.—Ellis Headlight.

MARKET REPORT

Kansas City Stock Yards, August 5, 1913. A supply of 30,000 cattle here yesterday, including 2000 calves, carried forty per cent dry weather cattle, and such generally lacked the flesh necessary to get into the beef classes. Stockmen have been holding out for several weeks against persistent dryness, but are unable to withstand conditions much longer, and more of them are here this week than in any week since July, 1911. Receipts today aggregate 16,000, and sales are weak as compared with the close yesterday, when sales ranged from 15 to 35 lower on killing grades, and 25 to 50 lower on stock cattle and feeders. The stock yards district is crowded with country buyers to-day, who came in response to telegrams sent out by commission men yesterday, and stock cattle and feeders are selling a little better. Quarantine cattle sold with minimum loss yesterday and today. The cattle market is always a weather proposition at this season, but it occurs only once in two or three years that so much depends on moisture as does at this juncture. General conditions could be quickly restored to health now, but if dryness keeps on, and corn prospects continue to diminish, rains will have less beneficial effect when they do finally arrive. Prime steers brought $8.60 today, corn and grass steers $7.00 to $8.50, Kansas wintered steers $6.75 to $8.00, straight grass steers, including quarantines, $5.00 to $6.65, grass cows and heifers $4.00 to $6.00, veal calves $6.00 to $8.25, bulls $4.25 to $6.50, stock steers $4.75 to $6.75, feeders $5.50 to $7.00.

Hogs arrived to the number of 14,000 today, market 10 to 20 lower, closing at the full decline. Quality is dropping off rapidly, dry weather having its effect here as well as in cattle, but there are no signs of cholera. Speculators paid $8.75 to $8.82 1-2 for 15 or 20 loads of hogs today, but packers did their buying at a range of $8.50 to $8.70 largely.

Sheep and lambs are strong today, after a period of declines, top lambs today $7.85, some Arizonas at $6.65, native ewes $3.75 to $4.25, feeding lambs $5.50 to $6.25.
